What is Feng Li's 'White Night in Paris' series?

Shot and then shown on the city's streets, Feng Li's 'White Night in Paris' series is a spectacle full of uncanny images. Photosensitive is a RADII column that focuses on Chinese photographers who are documenting trends, youth, and society.

Why is Feng Li so popular in Paris?

"But Feng Li shows the diversity of Paris, a city that's very much alive, not the frozen 'City of Lights,' the one that is idealized by tourists." This particular quay where White Night in Paris is on display is popular with people exercising and sometimes even dancing in public.

How does fluidly use metaphors in FinTech Marketing?

Fluidly cleverly uses visual metaphors throughout its site, such as the 'successful fish-catcher' image below. Metaphors are very helpful in fintech because the marketing messages often involve abstract concepts like 'forecasting' and 'management'. These abstract concepts take more mental energy to process.
