Jimmy Chuang, General Manager of PrimeVOTL, with the flagship inverter model 320kW /1500Vdc . The flagship model, PV-320KH-HU features the input voltage of 1500Vdc, significantly reducing installation costs. With each MPPT supporting up to 40A, the model is ideal for high-current solar modules, such as M10 and G12.

Munich, Germany, July 9, 2024 - SolarEdge Technologies, Inc., a global leader in smart energy technology, announced today the appointment of Mr. Christian Carraro as the new General Manager of SolarEdge in Europe. Mr. Carraro has been working in the solar industry since 2005.

This paper proposes a general framework design for multi-fault diagnosis for the PV grid-connected inverter system. The framework mainly analyses the process of fault diagnosis of sudden faults in the inverter system based on the requirements of data volume and time which is fault detection, fault classification, fault location, and fault isolation.

Sungrow has announced that it has received compliance certification from Japan's Electrical Safety and Environment Technology Laboratories (JET) for its SG5.5RS-JP inverter, reinforcing its ...

Inverter failure can be caused by problems with the inverter itself (like worn out capacitors), problems with some other parts of the solar PV system (like the panels), and even by problems with elements outside the system (like grid voltage disturbances). An inverter failure is when the inverter develops faults that cause improper functioning.
